DETAILED ACTION

This Requirement for an Election of Species was originally made via telephone prior to 27 October 2005 and prior to the first action on the merits. However, no election was made. Applicant instead filed a preliminary amendment in an attempt to render the Requirement for an Election of Species moot. This was accepted by the Examiner and an Official Action was issued. The amendment filed 9 March 2006, however, has added new claims, invoking the same Election of Species again, which is outlined below.

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:
Markush group 1:

- Species A - The first parameter is power to the respective heating element.
- Species B - The first parameter is current through the respective heating element.
- Species C - The first parameter is resonance of the respective heating element.
- Species D - The first parameter is inductance of the respective heating element.
- Species E - The first parameter is voltage across to the respective heating element.
- Species F - The first parameter is temperature at the respective heating element.

Markush group 2:

- Species A - The second parameter is power to the respective heating element.
- Species B - The second parameter is current through the respective heating element.
- Species C - The second parameter is resonance of the respective heating element.
- Species D - The second parameter is inductance of the respective heating element.
- Species E - The second parameter is voltage across to the respective heating element.

Art Unit: 2852

Species F - The second parameter is temperature at the respective heating element.

Markush group 3:

Species A - The controller is adapted to receive and control based on a humidity datum.

Species B - The controller is adapted to receive and control based on a media moisture content datum.

Species C - The controller is adapted to receive and control based on a media temperature datum.

Species D - The controller is adapted to receive and control based on a developer temperature datum.

When a Markush group is claimed such that two or more of the members are so unrelated and diverse that a prior art reference anticipating the claim with respect to one of the members would not render the claim obvious under 35 U.S.C. 103 with respect to the other members, the examiner should set forth a requirement for election of a single disclosed species from each claimed Markush group. See MPEP 803.02.

In response to the requirement for an election of species, Applicant may:

(1) Provide a statement that all of the members of each of the Markush groups above would be obvious over one another under 35 U.S.C. 103; or

(2) Elect under 35 U.S.C. 121 a single disclosed species from each Markush Group above for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1-5, 7, 8, 13 are generic.

Art Unit: 2852

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
